Clark Testing and Resolution® LLC Sign Collaboration Agreement for Industrial Hygiene Services

Huntsville, AL, April 8, 2021 - Clark Testing is pleased to announce a mutual collaboration for Industrial Hygiene Sampling and Testing Services with Resolution® LLC of Huntsville, Alabama. The Clark-Resolution venture will offer a turn-key solution for Environmental Health & Safety (EHS) professionals in support of workplace safety and regulatory compliance, including OSHA compliance.

How we streamline compliance reports and program development for businesses:

- Our EHS service partnership begins with Resolution®'s ability to provide Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) and Certified Safety Professional (CSP) support on EHS projects related to mitigating occupational hazards.
- Resolution® EHS professionals conduct efficient and precise onsite team-based investigations to identify, mitigate and eliminate potential hazards related to occupational injury, illness, and exposure.
- Resolution® specializes in Industrial Hygiene and is able to completely manage IH projects from start to finish so that clients are able to remain focused on daily tasks within their facilities.
- Resolution® manages the collection of bulk, surface, noise and air samples for compliance with federal and state regulatory requirements.
- Clark's AIHA-accredited IH lab conducts the sample analysis and submits a report with the critical data detailing any potential presence of airborne substances or workplace hazards.
- Customers receive one (1) consolidated report from the Clark-Resolution team with a risk assessment identifying and evaluating the physical and airborne hazards of their workplace, along with a solution to ensure their facility meets safety standards and regulatory compliance.
- The ability to obtain one proposal covering both onsite and laboratory services reduces the time spent seeking multiple quotes from various vendors and simplifies the compliance process.

Workplace health and safety is a fundamental protection that is critical to all businesses, regardless of the industry or physical environment. Hazardous conditions can cause sickness, discomfort, and long-term health risks potentially leading to tragic consequences. The qualified professionals of the Clark-Resolution team can ensure companies meet the safety standards and regulatory requirements for workplace safety enabling businesses to operate unencumbered.
